	Session Laws

(Notes continued)	Except for appropriations, public laws tend to be esoteric since most laws that are passed by the legislature codified in the American Samoa Code Annotated. Public laws are put in collections that are sometimes referred to as session laws, statutory updates, or session reporters.					The courts remain judicially independent from the American Samoa Government by being directly administered by the U.S. Department of Interior. The High Court is an Article IV court, meaning that it was created by an Act of Congress rather than by the U.S. Constitution.
